Welcome to the Natural world of everlasting M-Class type clay roofing tiles...

Clay has been, by nature and tradition, an ideal material roof for tropical heat insulation and comfort. The highly advanced Japanese technology and the exceptional firing treatment at 1100° C mould the clay into a smooth, sturdy and durable roof protection phenomenon.

M-Class Industry, the manufacturers of premium roof tiles, has set authoritative standards in strong and durable roof-protection arena.

The exceptional distribution outlets worldwide with their aesthetically pleasing products chosen after stringent quality control, have gained international reputation.

The M-Class Type Clay Roof Tiles

M - Class constantly strives to exceed the customer expectations of selection and service through world class products. The natural fine-finish, the eco-friendly nature and the wide range of fast colours are their premium characteristics. These technically perfect tiles are complimented with precise accessories that contribute to easy installation.
